

Class Work and ASSIGNMENT:

The practical 8 showed a near real life situation of presenting a static dashboard.

Your assignment is to put all the graphics organized as one unique figure with your own presentation of colors and sizes to make it as much as possible talkative and understandable.

Be careful that the evaluation will be based on the code organization, reusability, and final presentation of the dashboard.

Remember that it rarely happens that 2 dashboards look the same and as this assignment is an individual work please keep your work as personal as possible.

Submit your work as a python file, a final screen shot of your dashboard and explain how you will make your code reusable in this particular case.
